Overnight

Parachute

Overnight I walk these midnight streets alone
All the lights they try to pull me in Oh and I should be sleeping
Oh but I can't close my eyes anymore
So wide awake againAnd everybody says that I should just forget
The hardest part is over with
But it's so dark and I can't see the light
There will never be a heart that I could break
That I could find to take your place
There's nothing I can doI can't get over you overnight
I can't get over you overnight
I should be sleeping, overnightI watch the strangers pass me by Every time their face looks just like you
Oh and I still remember you in my arms
When I would hold you
Back when the sun would always rise too soonAnd everybody says that I should just forget
The hardest part is over with
But it's so dark and I can't see the light
And there will never be a heart that I could break
That I could find to take your place
There's nothing I can do
I can't get over you, overnight
I can't get over you, overnight
I should be sleeping, overnight
I can't get over you, overnight
I should be sleeping, overnightI should be sleeping
I should be sleeping
I should be sleeping
I should be sleeping
I should be sleeping
I should be sleeping
I should be sleeping
I should be sleeping
everybody says that I should just forget
The hardest part is over with
It's so dark and I can't see the light
And there will never be a heart that I could break
That I could find to take your place
There's nothing I can do

I can't get over you, overnight
I can't get over you, overnight
I should be sleeping, overnight
I can't get over you, overnight
I should be sleeping, overnight
I can't get over you, overnight
I should be sleeping, overnight
I walk these midnight streets alone
