

Starting Over Again

Reba McEntire

Mama moved out
Daddy sold the house
They split up the money
And went on their own way And all the kings horses
And all the kings men couldn't put mama and daddy back together again Starting over again
Where should they begin
'Cause they never been out on their own
Starting over again
Where do you begin
When your dreams are all shattered and the kids are all grown
And the whole world cries He got an apartment
She moved in with her sisters
He's schemin' big deals with one of his friends
While she sits at home sortin' out pieces
Of left over memories from thirty odd years Starting over again
Where do you begin
When you've never been out on your own
Starting over again
Never any end What will the neighbors say
They're talking talk it's small town news
They're fifty years old wrecking up a happy home
And this far down the road
You find yourself alone
Two fools Starting over again
Where do you begin
When you've never been out on your own
Starting over again
Never any end
When your dreams are all shattered and the kids are all grown And all the kings horses
And all the kings men
couldn't put mama and daddy back together again
