Sounds Under Radio

In a moment I'll feel her breaking me down again
The stars in the distance are my only friends
Her empty apartment is leading me homebound
She's saving the world but she's killing her own
And I feel
And I feel she's coming home
And I feel
And I fear she's not alone
She's pale underneath her porcelain skin
I'm sinking deeper as she pushes inward
A tear in the fabric of her favorite dress
She cries from the distance and its making all this... its making all this
And I feel
And I feel she's coming home
And I feel
And I fear she's not alone in the dark anymore
Our bodies on the floor
I loved her when she lied
Our bodies moved in time
