You Have Me

The Elwins

There is something special 'bout the way you show teeth
Making me an imbecile, what's hiding underneath
There must be a way
To make red with gray
See I'm stuck to you, and I won't pull awayYou have me, every single part
Every little piece
But I can't tell if you want it all
This picture's still incomplete
Under covers, sleeping tight
Do you think of me?
You have me, every single part
Every little pieceCrossing all my fingers and I'm hoping for the best
Braid the hair on my toes and the stragglers on my chest
I'm a nervous wreck
Thinking what the heck
Will she see me standing here
Or am I just an objectYou have me, every single part
Every little piece
But I can't tell if you want it all
This picture's still incomplete
Under covers, sleeping tight
Do you think of me?
You have me, every single part
Every little pieceThere must be something I can say,
There must be something
There must be something I can do,
There must be somethingI will find a way
To make red with gray
See I'm stuck to you and I won't pull away
(I won't pull away)You have me, every single part
Every little piece
But I can't tell if you want it all
This picture's still incomplete
Under covers, sleeping tight
Do you think of me?
You have me, every single part
Every little pieceYou have me, every single part
You have me, every little piece

You have me, every single part
You have me, every little part
Every little piece
