Hello

Sugarbomb

I feel so peculiar I don't know what to say
But don't let me fool you I'm not one bit afraid, no wayOne thing's for sure
What I would give to simply open my door and see your smiling faceHello hello won't you come right in I'd give anything just to see you again
Hello hello won't you come right in Step into my world where you know you're everything
Everything I needI'm suddenly hopeful whenever you're in sight, that's right
I talk about you all day whisper your name at night, that's rightWhatever you need
What I would give if you should ask it of me
To make you feel completeChorusI could go on and on and on
Do it again again again
Whisper your name your name your name
Would you do the same for meI feel so peculiar I don't know what to sayChorusEverything
Where you know you're everything
Everything
I feel so peculiar
You know I feel so peculiar
You know I feel so strange
