

Get a Grip

Pimpadelic

Lonely boys and you lonely girls
Here at the end of the lonely world
    You're findin' out
        If there's someone to cry about
        Lonely girls and you lonely boys
        Playin' alone with your lonely toys
            Well don't be blue
                'Cause there's no one to play with you
                Get a grip on yourself you know you should
                    I got a grip on myself and it feels good
                    Get a grip on yourself take my advice
                    I got a grip on myself and it feels nice
When the lights come on and the party's through
    There are always a few with nobody to do
        Well now don't despair
        You'll eventually get there
            And meanwhile all of you lonely ones
            Here's what to do while you wait for the sun
                To rise above
                    The loneliest kind of love
                Get a grip on yourself you know you should
                    I got a grip on myself and it feels good
                    Get a grip on yourself take my advice
                    I got a grip on myself and it feels nice
                        Well it feels nice
                        Yeah it feels nice
                        Well it feels nice
                        Yes it feels nice
                If you're looking for someone
                    To get a grip on you
                First you gotta get a grip on yourself
                        It's true
                Get a grip on yourself you know you should
                    I got a grip on myself and it feels good
                    Get a grip on yourself take my advice
                    I got a grip on myself and it feels nice
                        And it feels nice
                        Yeah it feels nice
                        Well it feels nice
