Misconceptions

Ace Troubleshooter

Day after day after day you live in your misconceptions
'Cause our actions don't speak as loud as our words
It hurts, my friend, can I help you understand?
Can I please help you understand what I see?It's not bred out of fear, it's sprung out of love
It's what we've been in search ofNow spring clear of all the lies and sever all the ties
With tangled webs of futile thinking
Now spring clear of all half-truths
'Cause the burden of proof doesn't rest on an institutionYeah, I can see all the hurt and the misery resulting from the fact
That Christians are the biggest sinners of them all
But please don't fall
Don't let all those who come in Christ's name fool you
Don't you dare, don't you dare
