

My Little Man

Sean Rowe

It's not here at all I cannot recall the game I played when I was young without your little face to put me back into place I played good but I can't believe that I won. The weight of my stare I cannot repair as I watch you grab for the light.
Let your innocence rain for one last refrain before I kiss your face goodnight. Now old Mr. Crow tell me what ya know when to steal and when to dive, one day my little man won't fit in my hands.
Take the slack that I've left behind, I can't say I planned it
I flew forever just to land it
my religious devotion
I can't pretend to understand it everybody was a notion but someday you will know who I am Oh my little man. Now death says hello are you ready to go, Well I was ready at 21 but now the truth is too old and I know too much I can't go yet without my son. My little man I love you so much.
I'm gonna let you sleep tonight but I want you to know every time that I go that it's me at the end of the knife. I can't say I planned it I flew forever just to land it,
I can't pretend to understand it, everybody has a notion,
but someday you will know who I am Oh my little man
