

Disappear

Bullet for My Valentine

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Once again the same thing's on your mind
Increasing pulse from what goes on inside
Will you pay for what you've done? Hatred
Payback's such a bitch, her vengeance haunts you So what's wrong tough guy, why the tears?
You drove me to this now you disappear Now all those acts repaid, your turn to be afraid
Not longer almost done, oh God just what have I become
Now all those acts repaid, your turn to be afraid
Not longer almost done, oh God just what have I become Try to fight you only make things worse
Screams of agony your final verse
Now you're begging for your life, breathless
All the times I bled my vengeance takes you So what's wrong tough guy, why the tears?
You drove me to this now you disappear Now all those acts repaid, your turn to be afraid
Not longer almost done, oh God just what have I become
Now all those acts repaid, your turn to be afraid
Not longer almost done, oh God just what have I become Your sweetest dreams turn into fears
It's almost done, they're almost gone
Our darkest days they fade away
It's almost done, they're almost gone So what's wrong tough guy, why the tears?
You drove me to this now you disappear
So what's wrong tough guy, why the tears?
You drove me to this now you disappear Now all those acts repaid, your turn to be afraid
Not longer almost done, oh God just what have I become
Now all those acts repaid, your turn to be afraid
Not longer almost done, oh God just what have I become
