

Sideways

The Birthday Massacre

It's not enough
To find a moment
As light moves away
We'll leave tonight
On empty highways
There's no coming back here
The painted hallways, forever and always
Are lost to you
How can you criticize
When you're not here to compromise?
Worse fate as time goes by
Without you, without you
Fall to the floor
We're watching sideways
As day turns to night
Ghosts in the walls
Through empty doorways
Like we've always been here
The painted hallways, forever and always
Are lost to you
How can you criticize
When you're not here to compromise?
Worse fate as time goes by
Without you, without you
Without you, without you
Without you, without you
