

Patiently

Andreas Johnson

She's like an angel watching over me
She's all the beauty God provides to see
And ooh, when she comes, she'll make me the one
Until that day I'm waiting patiently
She's like a sunbeam floating through my mind
Within this dark room, she might rise and shine
But ooh, when she aches, I'm the one that she breaks
Until that day I'm waiting patiently
All my love changing everyday in shapes of blue
And all my love stuck inside a dream of you
Until that day comes shining over me
And ooh, when she needs I'm the one that she leaves
Until that day I'm waiting patiently
