

Parental Guidance

Squad Five-O

Alright. When I was younger I thought I had it all figured out. I knew it all, I knew everything there was to know about. Adolescent rage, flying out of control. Only did as I pleased, never did as I was told. You tried to show me the way, and then I laughed in your face. You were always on my side, but I thought you were always on my case. Arrogant pride, too blind to sever see. I gave up on you, but you never gave up on me. So this song goes out to you. To say thanks for all the things you do. And all the things you've done to see me through. What's right and what's wrong. When words were short your actions spoke just as strong. Because of you I am what I've become.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damlyrics.com/>