

Runaway

Clean Cut Kid

Young and bold and devoid of where are you

Wide eyed running

With the world in your head

Lights sets your sights higher than the moon

Better turn to your heels

Boy, I can feel the real world coming here

You never know how reality bites you

'Till it bites you

And you'll never runaway

(Hey)

Runaway

(Hey)

Everything you thought will be earth ride on

Slip between your fingers and you'll never know how

Never know how

Take the rain sees the day play runaway

Find new horizons

Feel the warm shining blood run through your veins

Keeping you alive

Since the day you were born,

Boy you were born suddenly ariving here

To believe that you ever had a choice, still believe a lie.

And you'll always wonder why

(Hey)

Runaway

(Hey)

Everything you thought will be earth right on,

Slip between your fingers and you'll never know how

Never runaway

(Hey)

Runaway

(Hey)

Everything you thought will be earth right on,

Slip between your fingers and you'll never know how

Never know how

Once I was young, I was young, I was young,

I was happy here

Smile on my face, on my face, on my face,

Like yours

And you'll never runaway

Runaway

Everything you thought will be earth right on,
Slip between your fingers and you'll never know how

And you'll never runaway

(Hey)

Runaway

(Hey)

Everything you thought will be earth right on,
Slip between your fingers and you'll never know how

Never know how.
