Dying Day 4:28

Alo Key

The memories of our life time together
Are more precious than any diamonds or pearls
The times we've had to share, together
Ain't worth having all the money in the world
But now you're gone
But your presents will be a memory forever more
And that's when im near you
And that's how i know
It is so hard, facing life
With the lost of someone you love
The feeling of the pain is unbearable
It hurts so deeply
Within your heart and soul
How can i face another day
With the thought of knowing you're not around
In my heart is where your love will be found
Till my dying dayThe family will never forget what
What a blessing you've been to us on this earth
The time has come to go on your journey
For you to live your life in a better world
In a place where the trials of life will worry you no more
And that's when i realise
And try to let go
It is so hard, facing life
With the lost of someone you love
The feeling of the pain is unbearable
It hurts so deeply
Within your heart and soul
How can i face another day
With the thought of knowing you're not around
In my heart is where your love will be found
Till my dying dayEnd.
