

Willow Tree

Head North

Golden teeth, white shirt
Your fingernails caked in dirt
From hell you clawed, at the wall
And held the knife still
When all are on
When all are on
Blue skin, red clothes
Heart still drippin' love
Oh hell on stars
And broken pores
Restless enchant stir in you
Through the dire ol' park
Through the dire ol' park
Dead grass, wet room
You follow home, blatant no
One last talk, cuz soon you owe
I'm a man who never knew
Knew you had, ohh, owe one
Knew you had, ohh, owe one
One more day to lead
One more forever dream
As i sat in willow tree
Hang your head one more soul
Said to sleep it off
Said to sleep it off
