Here for the World

I Am Kloot

There's nothing missing
You've got it all here
The sound of the thunder
The sound in your earYou've no reminder
No old photograph
Did you come for the money?
Did you leave for the laugh?So read the words, read the words
You've got them all here, you've got them all here
For the world, here for the world
I'm here for the world and all you've got in itI've nothing missing
I've got you all here
The sound of a thunder
It's sound in your earWe've no reminder
No old photograph
Did you come for the money?
Will you leave for the laughs?So read the words, read the words
You've got them all here, you've got them all here
For the world, for the world
We're here for the world and all you've got in itYou're here for the world, for the world
You're here for the world and all they've got in it
