Wildfires

Mariachi El Bronx

with fire in my eyes with fire in my lungs i am not afraid i've known it all along a calm before the storm a whistling in the trees paranoia is blowing in the breeze and all i've ever found is burning to the ground and all i'll ever do is burn a whole in you a spark becomes a flame the wheels begin to rust ashen turns to ash and lovers turn to dusta wild fire swept over me burning bright and out of control a wildfire swept through me turning my insides to black destroying everything in its patha fire fills the air the smoke is everywhere its darker than disease it brings you to your knees a love begins to choke our lives go up in flames everything will burn and nothing will remaina wild fire swept over me burning bright and out of control
destroying everything in its pathhow did i survive burnt but still alive a part of me has died from ashes I will risea wild fire swept over me burning bright and out of control
destroying everything in its path
