

Angel Spread Your Wings

Judy Collins

Prisoners of the heart in search of love and peace falling desperation longing for release I am just a traveler angel your my ride take me past the place I passed the last time that I died

Angel spread you wings
I want to fly away with you take me in your arms
I know your dying to
fly away forever
fly away forever
angel spread your wings

Angel comes into my room it's dark and so is he wants to know if he can take me strolling out to sea lying in his darkness like a child awaiting birth angel comes and takes me for everything I'm worth

angel spread you wings
fly away forever
angel spread your wings

fly away forever
fly away forever
fly away forever
fly away forever
