

Delicate

Domenick Carino

I said Love, hello
You got a hold on me

I said Love, hello
You got a hold on me

Was the salt of a tear in a wound
Awoken by the sting

And all, I have to give
Is the heart of a man
And his fears

And all, I can say
Is it's yours if your hand
Can take it's shape

And see not forget
That a hand and a heart are delicate

Hmm, see I confess
It is love, it lies to the west

I said Love, hello
You got a hold on me

I said love, hello
You got a hold on me

Was the salt of a tear in a wound
Awoken by the sting

I said Love, hello
You got a hold on me

And all, I have to give
Is the heart of a man
And his fears

And all, I can say

Is it's yours if your hand
Can take it's shape

And girl not forget
That a hand and a heart are delicate

Hmm, see I confess
It is love, it lies to the west.
