Little One

Everyone Leaves

I've come to realize that my success will never look the way you wanted it to, and I'm fine with that.
It was nothing you did, there's nothing you could've done.
You were perfect.
I'm sorry I was meant to be this broken.
I wish I could fix the way you feel, without destroying myself.The place you live was never home to me.
I don't mean this to hurt you, I just need you to see
That I will love you the same wherever I go.
I'll be there in your heart; your sunshine still glows.
I don't want you to sit and wait for me,
Everything I've achieved is what you've made of me.I'm sorry I was meant to be this broken.
I wish I could fix the way you feel, without destroying myself.
I am your potential.
My whole life's for you.
I am your potential.
You'll live forever in things I do.
