

Feels So Right

Greg Tannen

Hey, you fool, want a little taste
Of what you used to have
Just an hour, baby, just a touch,
Just a drink, and maybe some laughs
Walking into your nosy ole face,
That's why we came to this place
Lights down and the music's alright,
For an hour, and maybe the night

We have been wild before,
Running through the open doors
Spend the (mumble mumble) night together(?)
From dark to the light
Feels so right, feels so right

Woah, so easy, that's what it's all about
I know she gonna kill you
If she finds out, finds out
Just once more then,
Then it's never again
Like the last time,
It was "the end"

We have been wild before,
Running through the open doors
Spend the (mumble mumble) night together(?)
From dark to the light
Feels so right, feels so right

Take me to paradise
Make the whole world seem right

It's unreal how good this feels
Could be I'm missing my train,
Maybe I'm a desert dying for a rain,
Just a poor boy quenching my thirst,
With the last as good as the first

We have been wild before,
Running through the open doors

Spend the (mumble mumble) night together(?)

Dark to the light

Feels so right, feels so right
