

New York City

Norah Jones

I can't remember what I planned tomorrow
I can't remember when it's time to go
When I look in the mirror
Tracing lines with a pencil
I remember what came before I wanted to think there was endless love
Until I saw the light dim in your eyes
In the dead o' night, I found out
Sometimes there's love that won't survive New York City
Such a beautiful disease
New York City
Such a beautiful
Such a beautiful disease Laura kept all her disappointments
Locked up in a box behind her closet door
She pulled down the blinds and listened to the thunder
With no way out from the family store We all told her things could get better
When you just say goodbye
I'll lay awake one more night
Caught in a vision, I want to deny And did I mention the note that I found
Taped to my locked front door
It talked about no regrets
As it slipped from my hand to the scuffed tile floor I rode the train for hours on end
And watched the people pass me by
It could be that it has no end
Just an action junkie's lullaby New York City
Such a beautiful disease
New York City
Such a beautiful
Such a beautiful disease We were full of the stuff that every dream rested
As if floating on a lumpy pillow sky
Caught up in the whole illusion
The dreams never pass us by Came to a tattooed conclusion
That the big one was knocking at the door
What started as a mass delusion
Would take me far from the place I adore New York City
Such a beautiful disease
New York City
You are my beautiful
Such a beautiful disease That's it [Incomprehensible]
