

Craving

Dreadful Shadows

I walked along a boundless passage
It collapsed above my head
A cyclone sweeps me away
And avalanches plungeA craving for delight - no remembrance
We're neither lost nor foundWhite walls hold me in chains
The axis got out of place
A child is dancing to the sound
Of detonating bombsA craving for delight - no remembrance
We're neither lost nor foundA raging torrent pulls me down
And I don't attempt to hold my breath
The glass is shattering on the ground
It cuts into my skin, but no blood is pouringA craving for delight - no remembrance
We're neither lost nor foundI see the children again
It smiles
It burns
