We Do This to Ourselves

Sherwood

We've spent a lifetime running away
Cold feet on cobblestone at the break of day
I still remember everything
The way we laughed in front of a store closingWe're finding a way to move along without you
And we do it
Finding a way to move along without you
And we do this to ourselvesI think it's safe to say you were right
Come back to your place, yeah, I think I just might
I still remember everything
Every mistake and every apologyWe're finding a way to move along without you
And we do it
Finding a way to move along without you
And we do this to ourselvesAnd the words above this page, are falling into place
One down, three to go
And my eyes are turned away, smile starts to fade
And I know that I'm aloneWe're finding a way to move along without you
And we do it
Finding a way to move along without you
And we do this to ourselves, and we do this to ourselves
