

Dead Summer

Astorian Stigmata

I'm a dead summers lover
And I don't need no others
Just tell me what to feel

Don't come back until I tell you to
And I don't mind if you are lying Cause baby so am I

I'm a dead winters hater
And I'll probably see you later
But I don't mind right now

tear your heart out just to put it back in the days come and then they go and I forgot to notice

That nothing ever changes
But neither do I
So this is a song about nothin'
But it's alright

And I don't fuckin' mind
If I'm wastin' all my time
Cause no matter what I do Everyday just fades away
Into the next one
There's a sun rise and a sunset
And I don't care which is which anymore

I'm a dead winters hater
And I'll probably see you later
But I don't care no more

tear your heart out
just to do it again
People come and then they go don't they always end up changin'?
Or just turning back into who they were

(But so do I)

So this is a song about nothin'
But it's feels right, right?
Cause there's always somethin'

Lyrics submitted by brooke colson.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>