

Positronic

The Nova Echo

there's a little unsaid intentional distance between us and the air in this room is so thick it's so pressing the heart monitor of this love has just turned to a flat line colors are blurred as the last motor sensory functions start to separate seamless with new found technology emotions intensifying

and your breath now taking longer strides from the side by side ways feeling that you can't seem to let yourself go the matter of principle states that you're going under

colors are blurred as the last motor sensory
functions start to separate
seamless with new found technology
emotions intensifying

and we've searched for years for the cure we seem to get more lost the closer we get the diagram dormant somewhere out in space is waiting Lyrics submitted by Kayce.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>