

Singing Stone

Rhett Walker Band

I look for miles over the open seas
This world ain't as pretty as it was Hypnotized by the rays of the earthly dreams
Going through the motions just because

Lord, I'm a thousand miles away from your throne
Lost within this desert land alone
Hard to swallow the seeds that we've sown

But you give life and breathe to a singing stone
But you give life and breathe to a singing stone

So take me back to how you made it to be
When you brought to life the stars and galaxies
I once was blind but now Lord now I see
You came in death to set the captives free

You give life and breathe to a singing stone
You give life and breathe to a singing stone
