

Won't Be the Same

Dance Hall Crashers

It's morning two and you haven't called me

It's like a thorn burning in my side

Open the blinds, but something is different, can't put my finger on it

The bright clean air makes me wanna hide'Cause now, ohh, now, this is how it ends

Based on promises that we'll still be friendsBut ba, da, ba, da, ba, ba, da, I know it'll never be the same

Ba, da, ba, da, ba, ba, da, now it's all been broken

Ba, da, ba, da, ba, ba, da, I know it'll never be the same

Ba, da, ba, da, ba, ba, da, you know I'd still do anything for youWhere is the day you used to inspire me?

Where is the time I used to depend?

On the relief of your anchor I thought I'd never need

Now that it's gone, will I slip away?So now, ohh, now, this is how it ends

Based on promises that we'll still be friendsBut ba da, ba da, ba ba ba da, I know it'll never be the same

Ba, da, ba, da, ba, ba, da, now it's all been broken

Ba, da, ba, da, ba, ba, da, I know it'll never be the same

Ba, da, ba, da, ba, ba, da, you know I'd still do anythingThis is only a letter

Jumbled words, no false pretense

It's not a true confession

'Cause you've cost me much more than you'll ever guessBut I'm not your fallen hero

Someone who came to your defense

And when it's all done and over

I'll make it, I'll make it, I'll make it, I'll make it make senseKnow it'll never be, know it'll never be

Know it'll never be, know it'll never beBa, da, ba, da, ba, ba, da, I know it'll never be the same

Ba, da, ba, da, ba, ba, da, now it's all been broken

Ba, da, ba, da, ba, ba, da, I know it'll never be the same

Ba, da, ba, da, ba, ba, da, you know I'd throw it all away
