Anatomy of a Tidal Wave

Cold

It's when my world comes down
You wanna change your little ways
Tomorrow's another start
But it looks like everydayYou can't imagine how I wished that
You could be the one
Inside you were not the same
But you look like everyoneIt's like a tidal wave that rose to take the stars
A hurricane that wrapped around my heart
If I could find a way, I'd make a brand new start
I can't believe it was the calm that killed the stormInside you broke my heart
And took a little piece of me
Maybe one day we'll try again
But it won't ever be the sameIf I don't hold on now
Everything fades and slips away
Tomorrow's another start
But it looks like everydayIt's like a tidal wave that rose to take the stars
A hurricane that wrapped around my heart
If I could find a way, I'd make a brand new start
I can't believe it was the calm that killed the stormIt's like a tidal wave that rose to take the stars
A hurricane that wrapped around my heart
If I could find a way, I'd make a brand new start
I can't believe it was the calm that killed the storm
The storm, kill the storm, kill the storm
Kill the storm, kill the storm
