Some Day When

Sandra Szabo

Dunno where my home is or where I wanna go Been lookin' all over for it and even tried to create my own maybe I'll never find it but I can't complain if I choose it myselfLivin' a little bit here and a little more thereI'll see you again someday
I'll see you again someday
I'll see you again
see you again some day when Don't know where this road ends or if it ever will Been walking for what seems like centuries through rivers, forests and hills and you've been following to discover what's hidden from usLivin' a little bit here
and a little more thereI'll see you again someday
I'll see you again someday
I'll see you again
see you again some day when I'm no longer on my wayDon't know where my home is or where this soul belongs Don't know if I'll ever stop walking but maybe that's the goal
Now go
I'll see you again someday
I'll see you again someday
I'll see you again
see you again some day when I'm no longer on my way
