

Repentance

Mr. Negative

Hello, mirror
So glad to see you my friend, it's been a while
    Staring at the empty page before me
All the years of wreckage running through my head
    Patterns of my life I thought had torn me
    Revealing hurt for shame and deep lament
    Overwhelming sorrow now absorbs me
    As the pen begins to trace my darkest past
Signs throughout my life that should have warned me
    Of all the wrongs I've done for which I must repent
        I once thought it better to regret
        Things that I have done, then haven't
        Sometimes you've got to be wrong
            Learn the hard way
        Sometimes you've got to be strong
            When you think it's too late
        Staring at the finished page before me
        All the damage now so clear and evident
Thinking 'bout the dreaded task in store for me
    A bitter fear at the thought of my amends
    Hoping that the step will help restore me
    To face my past and ask for forgiveness
Cleaning up my dirty side of this un-swept street
    Could this be the begin of the end
        I once thought it better to regret
        Things that I have done, then haven't
        Sometimes you've got to be wrong
            Learn the hard way
        Just when you're through hanging on
            You're saved
If we are painstaking about this phase of our development
    We will be amazed before we are half way through
    We are going to know a new freedom and a new happiness
    We will not regret the past nor wish to shut the door on it
We will comprehend the word serenity and we will know peace
    No matter how far down the scale we have gone
    We will see how our experience can benefit others
    That feeling of uselessness and self pity will disappear
        We will lose interest in selfish things

And gain interest in our fellows
Self seeking will slip away
Our whole attitude and outlook upon life will change
Fear of people and economic insecurity will leave us
We will intuitively know how to handle situations
Which used to baffle us, we will suddenly realize that God is doing for us what we could not do for ourselves
Misinterpreted promises, we think
Helping for any one's touch
For that to portray, I'm sure
You're only one
You're only as sick as your secrets
But the truth shall set you free
The truth is the truth
All you can do is live with it
