

Always Tomorrow

orange yellow red

It's so dark
You've been hours
Every breath
You take away
Why wait for another day
It never ever seems to come
For a while the darkness fades
I'm left to feel this on my own
Time to go
Time to fall
Wake myself
I'm still holding on Waiting for another day
Tomorrow always seems to come
For a while the darkness hides me
I am lost inside this girl
I need to shine in my life
I caress your every word
Once again I fall inside
And out of your arms
