

Shadow of Your Hand

Eden's Bridge

Lost in a little room one with a white out windows where no one goes lost in an empty space where no one else can reach me or hear me cry

But the Shepard never sleeps nor leaves searching for his sheep so how can i be afraid? for you will find my heart again you can warm my fears away and i won't be alone for you will bring me home again safe into the shadow of your hand

I was an only one separate and different and so aware that i was a lonely one without a friend to call me to say hi

he alone will meet there needs
for you laid down your life for me you became the living dead
 and i won't be alone
 i can hear you calling me
safe into the shadow of your hand

Here there is life for me life in such abundance from you here there is sanctuary and entering through you i find your peace

For the Shepard knows his sheep he's the only voice they heed
 so how can i be afraid?
now that you have found my heart again you who've warmed my fears away

now that you have brought me home again
