

Orion

The Nova Echo

and it's failure by design I could never be anything to you and I could never come close but I felt our worlds collide but I fell for you and everything was so alive but nothing is changing

I'm just another face you'll pass by on the street I'm just another broken brick beneath your feet and I could never lie if you never try never gonna be anything that you'll ever see if I can't make you believe enough in me and I'll never say, I'm terrified of the answer but Im holding on to the dream so here lies another sad failed attempt at love another life that was never realized what I felt for you, it was enough for me to reach the sky
