Baby Don't Cry

Uncle Kracker

Everything has a reason
At least that's what they all say
And I've lost my count of the seasons
I don't know what's been makin' me stayMany's the times that you've hurt me
That's just the way that you live
Many a time is forgotten
But I never said that I can forgiveSo baby, don't cry, cry me a river
And baby, don't try to wash over me, yeah
Baby, don't cry, my ship is now sailin'
And I've wasted all my time in your sea
And I've wasted all my time in your seaNow that your toys have been broken
I guess you want company
There is no point in you callin'
'Cuz I'm headed for my own destinyNow everyone has a problem, yeah
Lord, knows you've always been mine
The nights are always the hardest
But tonight some how I know I'll be fineBaby, don't cry, cry me a river
Baby, don't try to wash over me, yeah
Baby, don't cry, my ship is now sailin'
And I've wasted all my time in your seaBaby, don't cry, cry me a river
And baby, don't try to wash over me, yeah
Baby, don't cry, my ship is now sailin'
And I've wasted all my time in your sea
And I've wasted all my time in your seaBaby, don't cry
Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
Baby, don't cry, cry me a river
Baby, don't try to wash over me, yeah
Baby, don't cry, my ship is now sailin'
And I've wasted all my time in your seaBaby, don't cry, cry me a river
Baby, don't try to wash over me, yeah
Baby, don't cry, my ship is now sailin'
And I've wasted all my time in your seaAnd I've wasted all my time in your sea
And I've wasted all my time in your sea
And I've wasted all my time in your sea
