

We Both Know

Blaudzun

Our words, like a wounded soldier
No guilt to cry
We both know Patience won't stop the accusations
Your tongues' afire
We both know It's a long haul
From both sides of the sea
But we both know A steep fall
Hanging by a thread, Oh
But we both know
We both know Forward
Following the sunburn
'Til you raise the wrong words
We both know Bright eyes
Shimmering in the tail-lights
We hit the brakes, and collide
We both know It's a long haul
From both sides of the sea
But we both know A steep fall
Hanging by a thread, Oh
But we both know
We both know Steep fall
Hanging by a thread, Oh
All the lies that we sold
We both know Free fall
All the lies that we sold
Watch 'em from afar, Oh
We both know
We both know
We both know
We both know
We both know
