All the Ways

umlala

All the ways of your love
The hurt and tears to cry
I sit and count the reasons
Why I ever fall in loveIt seems so simple to me
I know just how it should be
You take my lovin' so carelessly
I keep on hoping someday you'll understandA heart that is breaking
And keeps waiting for youAnd all the ways of your love
The hurt and tears to cry
I sit and count the reasons
Why I ever fall in loveWhen we're together, you treat me like a child
You only tell me what you think you should
What if tomorrow I was blown out of your life?
How would you find your way with no one to show youAll the ways of your love
The hurt and tears to cry
I sit and count the reasons
Why I ever fall in loveAll the time that's passed us by Could it be that I could find
Hearts that act so blind?
And never even try all the ways
