

The Power and the Glory (2012 Remaster)

Gentle Giant

Run, run, the shotgun has got you in its range.
Turn, turn away, when it's time to make a change.
Look where you're going. try not to lose your way.
What good is knowing you have to go away?
Go, you make go, never know, never know.
Time's run away, so have to go, have to go.
Put back the ace black, you never made it good.
Go while you can go. Go while the going's good.CHORUS:
And the power and the glory is over, so I'll take it.
The power and the glory is over, so I'll make it.
The power and the glory is over, and I'll break it.
The power and the glory is over...Face up to reason, you know it's up to you.
Do what you can do, all that you have to do.
Move over now, and I'll try to take your place.
Time to remember that I have won the race.
Go, you make go, never know, never know.
Time's run away, so have to go, have to go.
Pick up the pieces, to you I'll have to stand.
Break up the power, the glory's at the end.[CHORUS]Run, run, the shotgun has got you in its range.
Turn, turn away, when it's time to make a change.
Look where you're going. try not to lose your way.
What good is knowing you have to go away?[CHORUS, ad lib]
