

Decomposition of the Human Race

Six Feet Under

Hopeless, the terrified, you're petrified, it's time to die
I vomit in the face of the faithful, the misled, the ignorant
The ones who are truly dangerous
The holy, the justice system, the President
The ones who are truly dangerous, it's time to die
Decomposition of the human race
A warning from beyond the grave
Out of the ashes and into the fuckin' flames
Decomposition of the human race
A warning from beyond the grave
Out of the ashes and into the fuckin' flames
Soulless, the unworthy, the undead
Now walk the earth in pain
They hunt you to devour, to massacre you
To overtake this world
The misled, the ignorant
The ones who are truly dangerous, it's time to die
Decomposition of the human race
A warning from beyond the grave
Out of the ashes and into the fuckin' flames
Decomposition of the human race
A warning from beyond the grave
Out of the ashes and into the fuckin' flames
The image of man betrays that which Distinguishes him from other animals
His ability to observe himself
The decay of modern society leads to doom
Turn back the clock, retreat into the essence of life
But it's too late for you now, it's too late for you now
Decomposition of the human race
A warning from beyond the grave
Out of the ashes and into the fuckin' flames
Varicose, the heart is now closed
Eyes still open, but soon you'll decompose
You're on your way to the grave and it's a bottomless pit
