

Hard Sleep

Peter Bjorn and John

you get no hard sleep when you love someone comes a time when you won't be around screaming at the top of your lungs you'll be far away but by my side i will always see the fireworks in your eyesnight after night hearts explode, some survive guided by light, fireworks in your eyes time after time something there to remind i will always see the fireworks in your eyescomes a time when i can't even reach you on the telephone, and you stand alone you rebel cause rebellion is the thing that pleases you but in time you'll learn, you're always my concern you get no hard sleep when you love someone
screaming at the top of your lungs
guided by light, fireworks in your eyes
time after time something there to remind i will always see the fireworks in your eyeswon't deny, got tinnitus and a bruised up forehead and an aching back try to rock, try to rock you, try to sing you off to sleep i keep you as mine before i let you flyyou get no hard sleep when you love someone you get no hard sleep when you love someone
you get no hard sleep when you love someone
you get no hard sleep when you love someone
screaming at the top of your lungs
guided by light, fireworks in your eyes
i will always see the fireworks in your eyes night after night hearts explode, some survive guided by light, fireworks in your eyes
time after time something there to remind
i will always see the fireworks in your eyes
