

Dial Tones (Acoustic Version)

As It Is

It really hurts to know that I'm why your bed's half empty
Why you sleep alone or just stare up at your ceiling
And if you're a mess
God knows what that makes me
Cause the weight from all my guilt is all too much for me to carry
I'm sorry ã¬ã¬
Am I all that you never wanted?
Or has it been so long that you've forgotten?
All we ever share are dial tones (dial tones)
Take your caution or take your chances
I'll mend your heart and break it in the same breath
All we ever share are dial tones (dial tones)
I'm getting more of what I've always wanted
But becoming less of who I've ever been
Cause I promised myself I'd never never hurt you and I did
If you can't trust a liar, how can you trust me again?
I'm running out of ways to say I'm sorry Am I all that you never wanted?
Or has it been so long that you've forgotten?
All we ever share are dial tones (dial tones)
Take your caution or take your chances
I'll mend your heart and break it in the same breath
All we ever share are dial tones (dial tones) Forget me like you know you want to Forget me like you know you have to
It really hurts to know that I'm why your bed's half empty
Why you sleep alone or just stare up at your ceiling
Am I all that you never wanted?
Or has it been so long that you've forgotten?
All we ever share are dial tones (dial tones)
Take your caution or take your chances
I'll mend your heart and break it in the same breath
All we ever share are dial tones (dial tones) All we ever share is dial tones (dial tones)
All we ever share is dial tones (dial tones)
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>