

Time Bomb

A Telemetry

so tight around you
that paralising view
compact and empty
a stress that turns you blue

into your side
a thorn that pierces through
anger collides
as hope releases

can't take the load - explodes
like a time bomb

try hard to garnish
a trick to ease the way tied down and branded
the lust is left in frays

circled no pride
a heat that casts the burn angles contrived
now set to flames

can't take the load - explodes
like a time bomb

all empty promises are clear eyes become wider still to listen - one speaks
a twisted tired game
caught in a desperate world - no aim

can't take the load - explodes
like a time bomb
