

Already Tomorrow

Havoc

Damn, it's already tomorrow
Got everything I want but I feel hollow
Everybody round me buying bottles
I don't think that I could take another swallow
I be frontin but I think I've got a problem
Until I look it's on myself I've been soft but never Knowing I could do better, being an asshole's easier
Ridin like I got some kind of control over media
But as long as I control my inner doors I'm safe
Saw my mom, she ain't recognize her son's face
Gotta get back on track and that's that
Entitled to your own opinion but not your own facts
Gotta celebrate life, not words, just stacks
Of money you can't take with you and it all go black
Private line like my cellphone tapped
The life that I'm livin got me thinkin like that Thinkin like that
Thinkin like that
Thinkin like that
Thinkin like that [Chorus]
Slow down brother, fuck you in a rush for?
Do you really wanna know what's on the other side of the door?
Thinkin like that
Thinkin like that
Slowly roll, you could do it big or much small
Do you really wanna know what's on the other side of the door? Damn, it's already tomorrow
And she about to have a baby, precious cargo
13 but she started having problems
Now she send to the path and have it hard yo
Everything she get she fiend she beat and followed by the stress
Didn't had nobody in school to tell her bout sex
No love at home, had to find it when she could
Looking for a father figure she givin up the goods
Pretty young thing with a self-esteem
Been gone down the drain and long by her dreams
Life turned around 1-80 degrees
Knocked up, she should be out there getting degrees
Boy it's scary that she dropped out of highschool to carry Fell apart, she won't even know who the baby daddy
Kinda safe to say that she a Maury Povich

No playin now, mom she steady with poetry[Chorus][Repeat x4]

Thinkin like that

Thinkin like that

Thinkin like that

Thinkin like that
