We're Alive

Stan SB

What's all this about a switch-up?
You're gonna instigate a change in heart,
It's not a case of a real quick fix-up,
But it's an intricate and subtle art,Come back here, you're not done yet,
You've done your part, but there's still a threat,
So raise your hands and show them who we are,[Chorus]
We're alive
We're alive
We're alive
We're aliveI got to say I've got no idea what we're doing here,
I've never been so confused in all of my life,
But believe me when I say we're fine,
I've seen the future and it's all alright,
But raise your hands for the ones we'll leave behind,[Chorus]
We're alive
We're alive
We're alive
We're aliveWell I need an explanation, or maybe just a clue,
For what it is we do here, and if it's anything new,
And if there's nothing else left to do,
Can we move on and try to find something new,
Or are we doomed to stagnate forever?It could be just a crisis of faith,
Or maybe some unfunny mistake,
But I get the feeling that we're not quite meant to try,
Alright, fine, I'm losing my mind,
'Cause everything's recycled, nothing new to find,
Forget about the future 'cause the past's just fine,
Well I'm not so sure,We're alive
(Quiet)
We're alive[Final Chorus]
Alright, fine, I'm losing my mind,
Cause everything's recycled, nothing new to find,
Forget about the future 'cause the past's just fine,
Well I'm not so sure,We're alive
We're alive
