

Voice of Contention

Hatebreed

If they said they knew the truth
They lied No one said my faith wouldn't be questioned
Been driven to the brink
Because the truth is too hard to accept
When you face your mortal enemy Who ever said I needed you, lied
Who ever said you knew the truth, lied
Who ever thought they knew my faith, lied
And if they think they know now, they fucking lied
They lied Where are all your answers now
That you've been called out?
I kneel down and mourn for what we had
I can't be there for you now Hear my voice of contention
It's sad you made me this way
Hear my voice of contention
It's so hard to see this end Who ever said I needed you, lied
Who ever said you knew the truth, lied
Who ever thought they knew my faith, lied
And if they think they know now, they fucking lied You think you know the truth
You lie Where are all your answers now
That you've been called out?
I kneel down and mourn for what we had
I can't be there for you now

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>