

Seventeen

Tre-O

He actin' up (You know he's too young)
It's all good 'cause I'mma be a'ight {Do what you gotta do}
He is so dumb (Girl, he is dumb)Seventeen years and you're still too young
Boy, you don't know where I'm comin' from
Always hangin' out with your silly friends
Then run back to me againSeventeen years and you're still too young
Boy, you don't know where I'm comin' from
When you gonna stop with your childish games
You don't even act your ageEver since that day
You walked away
I'm letting go
Boy, you need to knowYou said to me
You'd never be
The way that you are
But you are forever playin' these gamesSeventeen years and you're still too young
Boy, you don't know where I'm comin' from
Always hangin' out with your silly friends
Then run back to me againSeventeen years and you're still too young
Boy, you don't know where I'm comin' from
When you gonna stop with your childish games
You don't even act your ageYou never change
Still playin' games
Play with my mind
You're runnin' out of timeI'm out the door
Can't take it no more
No need to cry
It's goodbye, goodbyeAll the things I did for you
Tried to play me like a fool
Used to be the world to me
Now you're just a plain ol' GSeventeen years and you're still too young
Boy, you don't know where I'm comin' from
Always hangin' out with your silly friends
Then run back to me againSeventeen years and you're still too young
Boy, you don't know where I'm comin' from
When you gonna stop with your childish games
You don't even act your ageYeah, yeah, yeah
Seventeen, but you still young in the mind
Runnin' behind your dog so hard
Go on with the tellie, yo'

Last week it was all about really, yo'
Now you flossin'
Squashin' all of the game that you're tossin'
My way, all the lies you might say
On the real, tho', you know we chill D-Low
We about to blow up or grow up Seventeen years and you're still too young
Boy, you don't know where I'm comin' from
Always hangin' out with your silly friends
Then run back to me again Seventeen years and you're still too young
Boy, you don't know where I'm comin' from
When you gonna stop with your childish games
You don't even act your age Seventeen years and you're still too young (You're still too young)
Boy, you don't know where I'm comin' from
Always hangin' out with your silly friends (Your silly)
Then run back to me again (Seventeen) Seventeen years and you're still too young (You're still too young)
Boy, you don't know where I'm comin' from
When you gonna stop with your childish games (Your childish)
You don't even act your age (Seventeen) Seventeen years and you're still too young (You're still too young)
Boy, you don't know where I'm comin' from
Always hangin' out with your silly friends (Your silly)
Then run back to me again (Seventeen) Seventeen years and you're still too young (You're still too young)
Boy, you don't know where I'm comin' from
When you gonna stop with your childish games (Your childish)
You don't even act your age

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>