

Second Chance

Trisha Yearwood

What do you do
When love comes along
And offers your heart
A chance to move on With no guarantees
No safety net
Trust what you feel
You take that first step Just close your eyes
And reach for the moment
Before it slips by
Here is your second chance
Take it and fly The weight of the world
The need to survive
Has made you believe
That you got no right And out of the blue
You meet someone
Who offers a place
Warm as the sun Just close your eyes
Reach for the moment
Before it slips by
Here is your second chance
Take it and fly Just when you think
Love is a distant dream
Oh, fate gives you wings Just close your eyes
And reach for the moment
Before it slips by
Here is your second chance
Take it and fly
