

What a Good Woman Does

Joy Williams

I can't carry the weight of this war
I can't do it anymore
Everyone's wounded, nobody's won

Hear me
I haven't lost my voice without you near me
I can tell the truth about you leaving
But that's not what a good woman does

Don't feel sorry for yourself
You've got everything you want
Everyone's watching you pick up and run

To hear me
I haven't lost my voice without you near me
I can tell the truth about you leaving
But that's not what a good woman does

Ooh, a good woman does
That's not what a good woman
Ooh, that's not what a good woman does

Can't carry the weight of this war
I won't do it anymore

Hear me
I haven't lost my voice without you near me
I can tell the truth about you leaving
But that's not what a good woman does

Ooh, a good woman does
That's not what a good woman
Ooh, that's not what a good woman does
