In Mourning

Brutality

[music by Acres, lyrics by Coker/Acres][solo: Walsh] diminishing sun
obscures the light
as darkness falls
across horizon
wind blows slowly
through the trees
change of season
brings new life
tremendous grieving
hard to bare
drags me down
traying to cope
with this bitter pain
casting shadows
crosses marching graves destined to die
awaiting rebirth
vault of horror opens casket laden with wreaths rusted gates
weary sleep
face expressionless
swollen bruised lips
sewn together surgically despite decapitation eyes shut still talisman placed around the neck cloaked in veil
in mourning I cry [solo: Walsh]
remembering the dead
deny your maker mortal fear restless uncertainty
visions of madness rage [solo:Walsh]
prayer for the deceased searching for the meaning next I wander that will become life without reason

recollections
flashing vividly
before my eyes
years of contentment
suddenly torn times spent in harmony
and love
all those moments
will be lost in time
like tears in rain
time to die [solo: Walsh]
