

Breakfast for the Soul

Ian Kelly

Once again the sun came up
Way hight over my bones
He got up late in the night
To remind me I was here
I was blinded by the light
But everything became real clear
When the rain is pouring down
When the drops all feel like stones
Make sure you put up a fight
And you don't curl up in fear
Make sure that you do things right
And that you always persevere
And I have my voice to clear the air
And I'll sing it again for those who care
If you love me the same when we get old
You're my breakfast for the soul
With a side of rock n' roll
Things have always been this way
It don't matter who you are
If the sun refuses to shine
And your heart is broken like mine
You are stuck in all these lines
Where to look and what to find?
Who's gonna find the line, to get us out of here?

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>